COVID-19 has posed unprecedented challenges. Many Americans are faced with financial concerns that they carry with them every day, including identity theft.

The Team Member Resource Center is here to help. Join us on December 16, from 12:15-1:15pm for the Protecting Yourself from Identity Theft webcast hosted by the financial experts at Prudential.

Identity theft is a type of crime where someone's personal and financial data is obtained and used without permission.
